HERBERT GREENFIELD, THE NEW PREMIER.

At the convention of the elected Farmers' members of the Legislature, held in Calgary this week, Mr. Herbert Greenfield was unanimously chosen as the leader of that party and will become the fourth premier of Alberta. Most people would like to have seen Mr. Wood chosen, but as he declined the honor the selection of Mr. Greenfield was the logical outcome.

Mr. Greenfield has been very active in U.F.A. affairs for several years, and is held in high esteem by that organization. He is a past president of the Union of Alberta Municipalities and is one of the pioneers in the cause of municipal hospitals.

The new premier has the reputation of being a radical in his views on public questions and he will be watched with interest in his new position. Mr. Greenfield is not one of the new members-elect, but he will undoubtedly be nominated and elected in the Ponoka riding made vacant by the death of Rev. P. Baker.

He will be called upon by the Lieutenant-governor to form a government in a few days, and it will be interesting to know whom he will select for his cabinet. No doubt there are several good men among those elected to the legislature to fill those positions except that of attorney-general. As there were no lawyers elected by the Farmers he will be compelled to fill this position outside of those who were elected, and a seat must be found for him.

With the majority the Farmers have in the new legislature the new premier should have very little trouble with the opposition, and if the new government does not attempt to go too far with a radical programme it should have clear sailing.

A DOMINION ELECTION.

Reports are still being circulated in the east that a Federal general election will be held this fall. One day we read a report from Quebec to this effect and the next day we get another from Ontario telling of the activity of government politicians in their different constituencies. While it would seem natural that there would be another session of parliament and a re-distribution bill passed, yet the fact that the government has lost in nearly every bye-election and the further fact that there are several seats vacant at the present time, with very little chance of the government being successful in any of them, puts the administration in a very precarious position in the event of another session of parliament, with a diminished majority.

No government cares to go to the country on an adverse vote in parliament, and for that reason the persistent rumors of an election would seem to have no ground. The Review would like to see a re-distribution bill passed before the next election, so that the west would have her proper representation, but eastern politicians may induce the government to appeal to the people on the old distribution in the hope that they can control enough seats in the eastern provinces to return it to power.

If the government should decide to go to the people without passing a re-distribution bill it will be taking an unfair advantage of the western provinces. If an election is decided upon for this fall parliament could be called together and a re-distribution bill put through inside of a month. This could be done by the first of October and an election could be held sometime during the first part of November.

BURNS' FAMILY BIBLE RETURNED.

A cable dispatch told of the recovery of the family Bible of Robert Burns, which has been in several hands during the last one hundred years or more. It was purchased at an auction room in London for $450. The buyers are the trustees of the Burns' Cottage and Memorial at Ayr, and the dispatch says the Bible will be returned to the cottage where it originally came from.

The bible just sold in London is the volume from which the poet's father, in the poem, "waled a portion with religious care." The wife and weans were grouped around the venerable head of the house, and, in his "braud Scots," he solemnly intoned a passage from the Book of Books—from the prophets, the Psalmist, the Gospels, or the Revelation.

This was a frequent scene in the homes of Scotland—in the cot and the castle. Whether the inhabitants dined on "hamely fare," or feasted off the best in the land, they all drew spiritual sustenance from the same high sources. The laird and the laborer often differed in politics and economics, but they saw eye to eye on religion. They were wrong about "infant damnation" and "original sin," and a few other matters perhaps; but they were right about elementary truth, justice, chastity, manhood, womanhood and brotherhood.

Just at the time that most of us had made up our minds that it had forgot how to rain in this part of Alberta, down comes two soakers within 48 hours of each other. Everything comes to him who waits.

Those who have been telling us that the church has been losing ground on this continent have evidently been talking about something they did not know anything about. The recent census in the United States shows an increase in membership of nearly 100 per cent in 25 years, while the increase in population has been about 65 per cent.

The growing popularity of the Chautauque programmes as given in the different towns and cities in Western Canada is shown by the amount of space given to them by both town and city papers. From our experience we can truthfully say that the favorable comment they are receiving in other communities is well deserved. No better entertainments are given in the west for twice the money.

It is certainly refreshing to know that there is every prospect of a settlement of the Irish problem. With this question settled both Ireland and Great Britain can settle down and turn their attention to making both countries a better place in which to live. With a government patterned something after this country we believe Ireland will be very well satisfied and will become a staunch friend of Britain. What was accomplished in South Africa can be accomplished in Ireland.

Reports are already coming in of requests for relief from different sections of Alberta. Some systematic effort should be made to investigate these requests for relief. The Provincial Red Cross Society is endeavoring to interest the people in this matter and we believe no better organization in the province could be placed in charge of this work. Those interested in Red Cross work here should take this matter up, and we believe that the people of Redcliff will stand back of them.

We wish to call the attention of the resident ratepayers to a notice on the last page of this issue re the town's voters' list. All married ratepayers should make application to have their wife, husband or children over 21 years of age placed on the list on or before August 31st, in order that they may take part in the next municipal election, which takes place in December.

The price of gasoline is receiving some attention by the public these days. We understand that it is being sold at the refineries in tank or carload lots at 10 cents a gallon. Add the difference in the size of the imperial gallon, the freight, surcharge of 12.52, and sales tax of 2 1/2 per cent on cost at refinery, also exchange, and we have a total of 28.38 for an imperial gallon. Yet it is selling in Alberta at 50 cents a gallon. A thorough investigation should be made into this apparent hold-up.

THE REDCLIFF REVIEW

Amalgamation of All Soldiers' Organizations

A mass meeting of war veterans held Saturday evening in Toronto gave impetus to the movement looking to the amalgamation of all returned soldiers' organizations into one body to be known as the Canadian Legion. The meeting was called by the provisional committee supporting the merger and was attended by officials of the Great War Veterans' association, Army and Navy Veterans, Originals' Club, Grand Army of United Veterans and the Amputation Association. There were 200 soldiers at the meeting. Resolutions were passed by unanimous vote favoring proposed merger and all associations were called upon to arrange at once for the calling of an emergency convention. A third resolution requested the Dominion government to retain all the profits derived from the Canadian expeditionary force canteen during the war period until the merger of the associations.

"BEST CATTLE EVER IM-PORTED INTO SCOTLAND"

"The best cattle ever imported into Scotland." Such was the verdict of a number of prominent Scottish cattlemen at Glasgow after inspecting the newly arrived shipment of Canadian cattle numbering 224 head. Five Canadian provinces are represented in the aggregation and the enthusiastic reception accorded it is expected to make history for the Canadian cattle industry.

To Assist Those Going to Dominion

Anxiety is growing regarding the Canadian government's position in the Empire land settlement discussions, which are approaching. Rightly or wrongly, the impression is that while Australia shows the fullest spirit of co-operation toward the British government's ideas, Canada holds back. The British government, realizing the certainty of a large volume of British emigration in the next decade, has for the first time in British history proposed substantial financial aid to emigrants to the dominions, if the dominions provide an equal sum to ensure successful settlement of those whom the dominions themselves select. As a result of the three months' cash stoppage, the ministry of industry will have about 300,000 surplus workers, many of them of the first type, available to work on the land.

Trying to Extradite Woman From Minn.

Mrs. Blanche Sargent, of Mirror, Alberta, whose extradition has been sought by the Canadian government, was ordered released last Saturday by Judge Wilbur J. P. Ross at Minneapolis, on a habeas corpus hearing. She was charged with assisting in an illegal operation. Immediately on her release she was re-arrested on a second similar charge, and on which the Canadian government will not get her extradited. She is now in the Hennepin County Jail, awaiting a second hearing.
She was arrested June 17, at Sissy, Minn., by Detective J. O. Ross, of the Alberta provincial police, and brought to Minneapolis pending hearing before a United States commission.

Water Supply from South Saskatchewan

Today will determine whether the South Saskatchewan river will be the future source of water supply for Regina, Moose Jaw and district between Regina and Riverhurst, Sask. A commission has recommended a system whereby about 12,000,000 gallons of water a day may be pumped from the river near Riverhurst, and be distributed by means of a pipe line throughout the Moose Jaw-Regina district as far as Yellowknife and Methlab along the C.P.R. northwest from Moose Jaw to a point close to Tugueke and southwest from Moose Jaw to Long.

INCREASED RAILROAD RATES NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR BUSINESS STAGNATION

A denial of the frequently made allegation that increased railroad rates are responsible for the present business depression was made by William J. Ford, President of the Southern Pacific Railway Company at the convention of the National Association of Credit Men at San Francisco last week. The spirit of an allusion to the so-called "freight slide" that occurred in 1917 said:—
"Just as it was lightly alleged then that the railroads had broken down, so now it is readily alleged that the increase in railroad rates is responsible for the stagnation of business. Because of the fact that it is so important a factor in business it is not to be taken lightly. If it were true, that the railroad rates had increased the present stagnation in business would be no more. But it is not true."
On the contrary, the railroad rates were not raised in time to enable the railroads to move the country out of the country in the active period when the business of the country at large could easily absorb the increase. The fact is that the rates were raised and business declined at about the same time but one had nothing to do with the other, a related matter.

In proof of the suggestion, let me call attention to the water rates. The rates by water have been raised. Yet private concerns are laying up their ships. The United States Shipping Board's ships are laid up by the acre because business is stagnant. The cause is found in other inability of business to get back on a peace basis. This is the reason business has failed.

Yet the call of the day is that railroads reduce their rates because business is bad. This call for reduction comes from all sources and on all important commodities and from all sections of the country. The opinion that if all the railroads of this country were to reduce their rates to the rate of one-half of what they are now, on every kind of traffic excepting there would be no appreciable increase in the volume of business, but the railroads would be prostrate in one common disaster.

It is not the nation and call credits late question.

Preference for Toronto Makes Magistrate Sore

"Anyone who has a preference for Toronto must be crazy. If I had you examined by an alienist he would pronounce you to be insane," Recorder Semple of Montreal on Monday to John Davis, who was charged with recording that he would be back in Toronto to that where he was. "What do you mean by insulting Montreal like that?" continued Mr. Semple in his fiercest manner. "Toronto people come here to this city and say 'Look at these Montreals, how they lie about the city.' It is their own citizens who they see." Recorder Semple went on to say that he hoped his statement would be published in every newspaper in Canada and particularly in the Toronto papers for so many Toronto people come to Montreal and misbehave themselves. "You are doubly guilty," concluded Mr. Semple, "by lying drunk on the street and insulting Montreal. Costs or five days."

Wants to Force Disarmament

Postponement of allied debts refunding until after the proposed international conference was advocated in the senate by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho.

If the foreign governments are unable to agree with the United States on a disarmament program, he said, the United States will be justified in insisting that they promptly meet their debts and interest also. "If the governments will be justified in insisting that they promptly meet their debts and interest also," he added, "it will play an important part in molding and shaping policies which is mentioned or not."
"If the governments are to continue to spend vast sums for armaments, it would cause the United States to adopt an entirely different policy," he said, "if they fail to agree on disarmament, the senator continued. France was the most militaristic nation at present, Senator Borah said, adding that his army of 800,000 men was excessive. Great Britain, he said, also was spending enormous sums on her army and navy, while the United States by its loans was supporting the armament race, not only of this country, but of the European debtors.

The leading debtor nations, the senator continued, were amply able to pay the interest even if it were necessary to destroy the principal. He cited a recent loan by Great Britain to Argentina.

Would Organize Native Sons' Club

Inquiries as to the formation of a Native Sons of Alberta club are being received daily by L. Lindsay, from men who were born in this province and wish to see some kind of an organization formed among themselves. It is planned to form a club composed of the Old-Timers of just those Albertans who were born in the province.

Tentative arrangements are being drawn up for such a club which will have members from all parts of the province as distinct from the Old-Timers' Association, which restricts its membership to Southern Alberta. It is planned to secure the names and addresses of as many native sons as possible and to hold some kind of an organization meeting in the fall. All persons born in this province or those interested in the formation of the club, should communicate at once with L. Lindsay, 524 Alberta Court, Calgary, where applications for membership are being received.

Membership in the Old-Timers' Association does not restrict a person from joining this new club, providing he was born in the province. It is felt that many of the native sons now enrolled in the Old-Timers Association will appreciate the companionship of the younger generation that have their place of birth in Alberta.

CANADA'S APPLE EXPORTS

Canada's exportable surplus of apples shows great variations dependent on the size of the crop in Canada and the United States. Of the crop of 1920 over one and one-half million barrels were exported, and the following year approximately one million barrels less. During the past season the exportable surplus was approximately 1,380,000 barrels. As the greater bulk of the exportable surplus of apples each year is shipped to the United Kingdom, the Dominion Government six years ago appointed a Fruit Trade Commissioner with headquarters at Liverpool, England, who, during the active shipping season, devotes practically his whole time to promoting the interests of Canadian shippers both in the United Kingdom and on the Continent.

Adverse Balance of Trade Much Reduced

During the eleven months ending May last, Canada exported to the United States, $16,908,000 worth of goods in excess of the exports for the same period ending May, 1920. In total trade between the two countries for these contracted periods there was a decrease of $30,370,000. Thus there was a total decrease of United States exports to Canada of $47,283,000. Canada's adverse balance of trade with the United States for the eleven months ending May, 1921, was $238,728,966, as compared with $297,920,000 for the similar period ending May, 1920.

WHEAT CROP IN INDIA.
The yield of wheat in British India in 1921 is estimated at 253,000,000 bushels against 364,895,000 in 1920. An average of 145,743,000 for the previous five years, or 69.3 per cent and 73.2 per cent of the two last mentioned yields respectively.

Many Millions Are Starving in Russia

An official Moscow dispatch reveals in Riga describes in detail the horrors of the famine and the consequent mass migration in search of food. The city of Saratov is like a "grip-pump with its starving, emaciated and dying humanity." The peasants have subsisted since spring on roots mixed with the ground bones of animals. In the German Volga countries the hunger began with the winter and much suffering prevailed. In Astrakhan government the people are subsisting on fish.

The dispatch says a similar conditions prevail in other cities.

Any relief on a large scale from the outside, according to the experts, must be immediate, as navigation will be open for only three months more. If relief is delayed, they assert millions of persons will perish.
